DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 3, 25 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

There is no antecedent basis for the recited "further predetermined temperature" recited in claims 3 and 25.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5, 7-11, 14-16, 18-24, 27, 29-33, 36-38 and 41-53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bishop et al.

There is disclosed in Bishop a fryer, comprising: a cooking vessel 82 containing a cooking medium, the vessel having a side wall; means 156 for heating the cooking medium; a first temperature sensor 174, 94 for determining a first temperature indicative of the cooking medium or air within the vessel; a second temperature sensor 160 to determine a second temperature indicative of the vessel wall; and a controller which receives signals from the sensors to control the heater.

Art Unit: 1761

In regards to the claimed operation of the controller based upon the received sensor temperatures, such is functional and provides no structural limitations.

Applicant's use of the phrase "adapted to" only requires the claimed structure be capable of performing in the recited manner. It is clear that the controller can be "adapted to" compare temperature signals and operate the heater accordingly.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 6, 28 and 40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bishop et al. in view of McNamara.

McNamara discloses that it is known in the art to use a gas burner to heat a fryer.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to substitute the heating source of Bishop with that disclosed in McNamara, in order to provide an alternative heating means.

Claims 17 and 39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bishop et al. in view of Davis et al.

Davis discloses that it is known in the art to use an audible alarm to indicate to the user the condition of the heater or frying apparatus.

Art Unit: 1761

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to substitute the lights of Bishop for the audible alarm taught in Davis, in order to provide an alternative means for indicating to the user.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 12, 13, 34 and 35 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Polster, Benedictus et al. and Taylor as well as pre-grant publication 2003/0047084 are cited for their disclosure of the state of the art.
